Galileo.

EDITOR HERALD:—Your correspondent, when a college boy, remembers to have heard Dr. John Lord, more than twenty years ago, deliver a course of historical lectures.

Dr. Lord, as I remember him, was at that time most fascinating in manner and matter. He must be quite old, now, as he seemed full grown at that time, and appeared to have fully thrown off that gossamer sort of carriage and habit which never entirely deserts one under thirty-five.

The following extract from the Chronicle's report of his report of Galileo, in the issue of the 8th of October, 1873, seems so characteristically Californian that it amused me, and I venture to ask you to reprint it as an example of how refreshingly impertinent the young journalists of this association have become to all we have been accustomed to esteem reverend and sacred.

Having exhausted the Chronicle's report of Galileo, I venture to ask you to reprint it as an example of how refreshingly impertinent the young journalists of this association have become to all we have been accustomed to esteem reverend and sacred.

Grapes as Food.

Men can live and work on grapes and bread. The peasants of France, Spain and Italy make many a satisfying meal in this way, and of the wholesomeness of the diet there can be no doubt. Medical men constantly recommend the use of grapes for their patients. Scarcely any plant can equal the vine as regards the beauty of its leaves and fruit. As a covering for bare walls and for affording shelter and shade, it is a climber of the first rank. To sit under one's own vine has in all ages been considered an acme of rural happiness, an emblem of peace, a symbol of plenty, and a picture of contentment. That pleasure, though perhaps not in all its fullness, may become the heritage of thousands in these temperate climes. Neither our latitude, longitude, nor leaden skies, nor erratic climate forbids the growth of the grapevine throughout the larger portion of the kingdom. In many districts its fruit will ripen more or less perfectly. In almost all it would ripen sufficiently to be useful for eating or wine making. Even green grapes are useful for conversion into vinegar, for making tarts, wine, etc. Ripe grapes are universally esteemed. No one tires of them. If any declined to eat their own grapes, or grew more than needed for home consumption, there is a ready market in most neighborhoods for grapes at from fourpence to a shilling a pound, according to quality. Thus cottages might make or save the rent many times over. I know many cottages in which the vine occupies not only their chief ornaments, but the main source of profit. These might be multiplied up and down the country to infinity. As a means of increasing their number, I would suggest that prizes be offered by all cottage-garden societies for the best trained and most fruitful grapevines on cottages. I have known this done to such excellent effect that the vines became models of both; and such a spirit of emulation was stirred up that one laborer had paid another two days of wages to do up his vine for him. There need be no fear of an excessive supply; neither are ripe grapes so perishable as fruits. Cut with a piece of wood attached, and placed in bottles of water, or even suspended in a dry room, the ripe fruit will keep good for months, and even improve by keeping.

London Garden.

A man in Danbury laughed until he was sick. He was going to the funeral of his mother-in-law.

Madame Anna Bishop.

One of the prettiest notices ever written of a singer is from the Evening Post in San Francisco. That lively little paper says:

"England," said Mendelssohn, sentimentally, "has given three great singers to Italy—Clara Novello, Catherine Hayes and Anna Bishop." They were a grand trio—women with the stanch, lasting English physique, plus the glorious Italian training; a combination that makes extraordinary singers. These three upheld their supremacy when there was no lack of prima donnas. Madame Anna Bishop remains the last of that great school of vocalists which began with Storace nearly a hundred years ago. Oh, the memories that come with the next figure as it trips on to the stage! The recollections of triumphs won when Grisi and Viardot, Alboni and Crivelli, Lind and Persiani, were acknowledged queens of song! Of tales of adventure and travel, of peril by flood and field, of wreck, robbery and danger! Of all these and more, survived and conquered until admiration of pluck and endurance grows until it would almost forgive vocal deficiencies which exist.

MADAME ANNA BISHOP'S SINGING. Is a thing to be watched and studied. The secret of her success is in her method. No voice, however naturally beautiful, can last if it be badly trained or badly managed, and if any ambitious young lady wishes to preserve her voice for a whole lifetime, she must do as Madame Bishop does—there is open her mouth and let the sound come clear from the larynx, without affectation or hindrance.

AFTER TWENTY-FIVE YEARS OF TRAVEL.

And good fortune, she elects to begin her farewell trip in San Francisco. Her mezzo-voice singing is still superb; her upper notes clear, sweet and resonant, her scales and shakes brilliant and facile, and her figure, gestures, attitudes and expression, exactly, precisely and entirely like what they were when first she made her bow in America. If this be really what we hope it is not a farewell trip—we can only counsel every one who wishes to know what good singing is, to go and hear her.

Los Angeles people can hear her on Friday evening.

LOCOMOTIVES FOR WOODEN RAILROADS.—George E. Fifield, of South Newmarket, N. H., has been building, for a few years past, a novel class of locomotives for the wooden-track railways in the lumber regions of Georgia. They are only six tons in weight, and have very large cylinders for so light machines. The capacity for carrying water and fuel is very great, and the whole forming a very unique and serviceable machine, one of them being able to do the work of thirty mules easily. The rapid denudation of the timber lands along the rivers and lines of railroads all through the South is driving the lumbermen deeper into the forests to supply the demand for a material almost indispensable for heavy bridges, cars and floors throughout the country. No yellow-pine tree ever grows where one is cut, a soft, sappy, worthless scrub pine or a harder kind taking its place.

PROSPECTUS

THE LOS ANGELES HERALD.

The first of October, THE LOS ANGELES HERALD, a daily and weekly newspaper, will make its appearance. The daily will be a neat and tastefully printed seven-column newspaper, fully equipped with the latest machinery, and will contain the most important matter that has previously appeared in THE DAILY HERALD.

It is proposed that the HERALD shall be an unbiassed advocate of every interest pertaining to Southern California and Arizona, and a zealous worker in all things that shall tend to the betterment of the people. In its columns communication with the people. In its columns, from time to time will be found matters of interest to the California Farmer, Merchant, Laborer, and all classes of Producers; and it will also contain reading matter suited to the Home Circle.

The HERALD will be an independent Democratic journal and its efforts directed to securing from power and place those now mismanaging the affairs of the Nation. For the accomplishment of this end, it will have satisfaction in the co-operation of the members of all Parties, believing that the prosperity, perhaps the only one, will be secured by the success of movement of this character. It is "reform now or revolution hereafter."

The HERALD will advocate State Rights and oppose Coercive Legislation. It will favor Free Trade, and oppose Protective Tariff; it will advocate the currency of the United States, and oppose the present devaluing and degrading policy which upholds the present currency of the United States. It will advocate the People and oppose Monopolies, no matter what guise they assume.

While the HERALD will treat Slavery as a domestic issue, it will earnestly advocate the right of every State, be it Northern or Southern—Massachusetts or South Carolina—to govern itself in accordance with the wishes of its people, and the dictates of the Federal Constitution, without national interference.

The HERALD will oppose the sale of land in small lots, and will advocate the sale of land in large lots, and will oppose the sale of land in small lots, and will advocate the sale of land in large lots.

Each day, the fullest Foreign and Domestic Telegrams will be published. The aim will be to supply, in this part of the State, the demand heretofore filled by the San Francisco dailies. No trouble or expense will be spared to make the HERALD, in this respect, equal to any newspaper on the Coast. It will also contain the full and complete list of the best Markets, and the Trades generally, honestly and carefully compiled.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1873.

A Tale that has a Moral.

By a strange comedy of errors, the following dispatch occurred in yesterday's paper:

SAN BUENAVENTURA, Oct. 14. While Mr. A. Sharkey and Dr. Bard were out for a drive around town, the team became unmanageable, and suddenly turned across the road. Both of them were thrown into a ditch. Dr. Bard received a very severe wound about two inches in length, above his right eye. His right thigh was badly bruised. Mr. Sharkey was knocked speechless. They are both doing well. The horses and carriage were slightly injured.

It should have read:

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 14. While Mr. A. Starke and Dr. Grant were out for a drive around town, the team became unmanageable, and suddenly turned across the road. Both of them were thrown into a ditch. Dr. Grant received a very severe wound about two inches in length, above his right eye. His right thigh was badly bruised. Mr. Starke was knocked speechless. They are both doing well. The horses and carriage were slightly injured.

By a still stranger chapter of accidents, the Express made the very same errors. Starke under its manipulations became Sharkey, and Dr. Grant at once was metamorphosed into Dr. Bard. Of course it is impossible that so fair a paper would take aught from the HERALD without giving it the proper credit. Of course that column and a half of extra telegrams, which it has published, since the commencement of the HERALD's, are its own, and were not taken from other columns. This being the case, how shall an error so similar to that of the HERALD should occur is very wonderful. Perhaps, also, another paper not published at four in the afternoon may make the same errors this morning. Who knows? History is stranger than the novel.

The Election.

Yesterday passed off quietly in the city. A moderately heavy vote was cast. The results have in many cases been a surprise even to those within the circles. Not all the precincts in the county have been heard from, but enough to determine the general result. McKee the Democratic nominee has a majority in the city above both competitors, and in the county he has undoubtedly a considerable plurality—say 500. Sepulveda is elected District Judge by over 1,000 majority, and O'Melveny is the coming County Judge, by from 400 to 600 majority. In this city the Justices elect are the old incumbents; they run away ahead.

In the State at large the polling is heavily in favor of McKinstry, and he seems to have swept the State by a vote of 7,000.

The following is the vote in this city and county, as far as heard from:

Small Business.

The subjoined is from the columns of the Los Angeles Evening Express. Its sentiments entirely accord with those of the HERALD about such malicious trash.

The Argus of San Bernardino publishes a letter which purports to be from Los Angeles, but was evidently manufactured within the limits of San Bernardino. It can certainly do San Bernardino no good to publish such palpable falsehoods as are contained in the following, and reflects no credit on the taste that admits it in to print: "The thing has become chronic here. Every day we have breakfast for breakfast, lighterage for lunch, climate for dinner and 'back county' for tea. Of course the latter does not assimilate with the former meals, consequently, they have no resort to cathartics, and the result is, they soon have pressing business on hand, and have to attend to it themselves."

"The dailies keep up a tremendous whistle about business being brisk, but the frequent sound of money is an exception to the rule, and after all the blow and fuss, there has not been a single business block erected this season; and numerous stores and business houses are waiting for occupants."

"For true photographs of this place apply to THIS EYE."

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The feeling to-day is improved. There is general advance of 1/16 per cent., supposed to be in consequence of the dissolution of Judge Blatchford's injunction in the Grinnell bankruptcy case. Central Pacific Bonds are quoted at 84 1/2 @ 89; Union Pacific Bonds, 74 1/2 @ 75; New York Central, 80 1/2 @ 87; Western Union 52 1/2 @ 53; Erie 64 1/2.

Gillman and Co., are reported to have suspended. Their difficulties were caused by the continued demands of their depositors and inability to make collection.

W. S. Porry attributes his suspension to decline in stocks. Two petitions are being circulated for signatures asking Congress to repeal the shipping act. One purports to be on behalf of owners, merchants and masters of American vessels, and prays for its repeal on the ground that their right to make private contracts should not be interfered with by the Government. The other purports to come from mariners of the Port of New York. Both state general objections to the bill, which have been already published. A strong personal opposition is manifested toward Capt. Duncan who, it is alleged, introduced and conducted system with an eye to his private interest.

Judge McCue, of Brooklyn, one of the proprietors of the Eagle, has commenced suit for libel against Denas Barnes, proprietor of the Brooklyn Argus, laying demands at $50,000.

The First National Bank of Athens, Pennsylvania, was entered by burglars on Monday night. They seized the Cashier, and having bound him proceeded to rob the vaults. The amount secured was not large.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 15.—Charles H. Phelps, Cashier in Treasury Department of State was arrested at Jersey City, brought here charged with robbing the State Treasury of an amount estimated at $30,000.

CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, 2 A. M., Oct. 15.—Returns from Iowa are still incomplete, but they indicate that the Republican State Ticket is elected by about 20,000 majority. The Anti-monopolists will probably succeed in the election of many members to the Legislature.

Additional returns from Iowa confirm the early advices of the probable re-election of Carpenter, Republican, for Governor, and the success of the Anti-monopoly county tickets in a majority of counties. The Legislature, however, will probably be Republican.

PENNSYLVANIA.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15.—The Press estimates that Gordon's majority for Judge of the Supreme Court is over 18,000. Lamont, Republican, is elected in the Third Senatorial District. Sixteen Republicans and two Democrats are elected to the Legislature from this city. Elliott, Republican, for Sheriff, has 27,540 majority over the Democratic and Reform candidates combined.

OHIO.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 15.—Later returns from the State indicate a close vote for Governorship, with probabilities in favor of the Democrats. The majority will not run over 1,000 either way. The Democrats claim the State Legislature beyond a doubt. Cuyahoga county gives Noyes about 2,000 majority.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—The election for members of the District of Columbia House of Delegates resulted in the election of two Democrats and twenty Republicans.

NEW JERSEY.

NEWARK, Oct. 15.—The Charter election resulted in the election of Perry, the Democratic and Reform candidate, by 74 majority.

MAINE.

ROCKLAND, Oct. 15.—The case of Miss Mink has been on trial some days past, for the murder of Dr. Baker. She was acquitted.

PORTLAND, Oct. 15.—Schooner, R. T. Warner, foundered at sea and sixteen of her crew perished.

MEMPHIS.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 15.—The Mortuary report of the last twenty-four hours, shows that there are sixty deaths from yellow fever.

FOREIGN NEWS.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—One hundred and fifty thousand dollars was shipped from Liverpool to New York to-day. Unfavorable rumors from America are afloat in stock exchanges. It is reported that failures of several brokers caused by decline in Erie will be announced in Stock Exchange to-morrow.

MADRID, Oct. 15.—Preparations are making for a general attack on Cartagena by land and sea forces of the National Government. The insurgents are reported completely demoralized.

TULARE.

VISALIA, Oct. 15. The election passed off very quietly here. A light vote was polled in the city—only 308 out of 500. The following are the official returns: McKinstry, 87; McKee, 154; Dwinelle, 61. He returned to this county, and was rearrested and delivered to the Lower California officials in proper manner.

The Empress Eugenie Interviewed.

A correspondent of the New York World, who states that he has interviewed the Empress at Chiselhurst, reports as follows: I said, "I fear that, if even the monarchy were restored under Henry V. France will not have seen the end of her troubles." "You are right," said the Empress. "How can a fusion like that which has just taken place in France stand against the intrigues and plotting of men who are determined at all risks to get power for themselves, no matter what it costs the country in bloodshed and misery?" "But," said I, "that is not the difficulty. Does your Majesty believe that, even supposing the Count de Chambord and the Count de Paris to be enemies, the two parties of Legitimists and Orleanists can ever really agree and amalgamate?" "Jamais, never," answered the Empress, with more energy than she had hitherto shown; "they may, and probably will agree—will agree not to differ—so long as they stand in face of the common enemy, the red Republic. But no sooner will the latter have retired from the field than the partisans, if not the chiefs, must disagree. One thing alone could save the monarchy that we are told will yet be proclaimed in France." "What may that be, your Majesty?" I asked. "A deplorable but almost necessary event for the continuation of the Fusionist Monarchy," answered the Empress, would be that shortly after Henry V. came to the throne, he should abdicate or die, and then his successor, being the Count de Paris, he would at once become King, and there could be no further question of a different branch. The Orleans family have ever been a cunning and a selfish race. Even now in the fusion they have got the best of the bargain." "Why so?" I asked. "Because it is the first step in everything that is difficult. In re-establishing the monarchy the chief difficulty will be at the first. For this they will make use of the Count de Chambord to bear the first brunt of the change—to draw the chessmen from the fire. If he fails, the Orleansists will not feel the loss; if he is successful, they will reap the fruits of success in the inheritance of their own family to the crown of France."

INSTRUMENT FOR TESTING COLOR BLINDNESS.—A German has invented an instrument for testing color blindness. It consists of a rotating apparatus, which moves a disc whose center is a circle, one-half black, and the other half white; outside this is a ring half red and half green, and then another ring of violet and red, then the outside ring of violet and green. When rapidly rotated the center appeared to be colored grey—that is, black and white mixed. To a green-blind person the middle ring will appear gray, that being the result to him of a mixture of violet and red. The outer ring will appear gray to a red-blind patient, and the inner, gray to the violet-blind. By the use of this most ingenious instrument a large number of patients may be simultaneously examined for one or more kinds of color-blindness.

How Young Men Fail.

"There is Alfred Sutton home with his family to live on the old folks," said one neighbor to another. "It seems hard, after all his father has done to fit him out in business, and the capital he invested to start him so fairly. It is surprising he is turning out so poorly. He is a steady young man, no bad habits, as far as I know; he has a good education, and was always considered smart; but he doesn't succeed in anything. I am told he has tried a number of different sorts of business, and sunk money every time. What can be the trouble with Alfred, I should like to know, for I don't want my boy to take his turn?"

"Alfred is smart enough," said the other; "and has education enough, but he lacks the one element of success. He never wants to give a dollar's worth of work for a dollar of money, and there is no other way for a young man to make a fortune. He must dig if he would get gold. All the men who have succeeded, honestly or dishonestly, in making money had to work for it, the sharpest sometimes the hardest of all. Alfred wished to set his brain in motion, and let it take care of itself. No wonder it soon ran off the track, and a smash-up the result. Teach your boy, friend Archer, to work with a will when he does work. Give him play enough to make him happy and healthful, but let him learn early that work is the business of life. Patient, self-denying work is the price of success. Ease and indolence eat away the price of capital, but much worse still, all a man's nerve power. Present gratification tends to put off until to-morrow or next week, and so the golden moments slip by. It is getting to be a rare thing for the sons of rich men to die rich. Too often they squander in a half a score of years what their fathers were a lifetime in accumulating. I wish I could ring it in the ear of every aspiring young man that work, hard work, of head and hands, is the price of success.—Country Gentleman.

All Sorts.

Trinity Church, San Francisco, is crowded every Sunday to its utmost capacity. The attraction is not the sermon, but the music. They pay the organist $3,000 yearly, and he is the best on the Pacific Coast. His name is Mr. Seward, formerly of Exeter Cathedral, England, of which country he is a native.

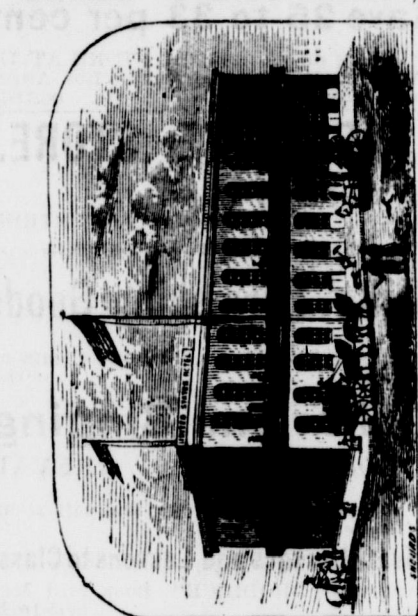

The third highest Free Mason in the United States was Captain Shaw, late director of the Craftsmen's Insurance Company. He now resides in London with his family, and controls millions of capital for investment in the rich Utah mines. On his first trip to London he made $50,000, commission on sales that he had advised, and which all proved profitable.

While Los Angeles has fifteen candidates for the office of Justice of the Peace, where two are to be elected, we, in Havilah, have not one for that honorable, but not lucrative position. Won't some one take the position.—[Havilah Miner.]

Wait till the chief comes back in all his glory. He will appoint one.

In Washington, the other day, a female member of a colored theatrical troupe went out into a dry goods store and called for some flesh-colored hose. The clerk placed before her a box of black stockings—and that unfortunate young man has never been able to tell whether he was blown up by nitro-glycerine or was struck by a seventy-two-pounder.—[Courier Journal.]
